OUR BRAND

BRAND STORY

PAPA Noodles was born out of love and respect for Asian fathers, who, though often quiet and reserved, show their care through thoughtful actions, like preparing nourishing meals. The brand seeks to embody this same spirit by offering customers instant noodles that are fast, convenient, nutritious, and comforting.

Our mission is to bring the warmth of home-cooked Asian noodle products to Canadian households, helping people reconnect with the flavours of their heritage or discover new tastes that introduce them to the rich culinary traditions of Asia. A simple bowl of noodles can transcend language and culture, creating a sense of family and belonging around the dinner table.

MISSION

To provide delicious, high-quality Asian noodles that bring the warmth of family and tradition to every meal.

VISION

To become a household name for Asian instant noodles in Canada, connecting people through shared culinary experiences and promoting understanding of Asian culture.

VALUES

We honour traditional Asian flavours and cooking methods in every product, creating items that evoke the care and comfort of a father's love. Our goal is to offer fast, nutritious meals without compromising taste or ingredients while bridging cultures and generations through the joy of food. Additionally, we continuously improve our recipes and methods to meet our customers' evolving tastes.

BRAND MESSAGING

PAPA Noodles' messaging should evoke feelings of warmth, connection, and authenticity, reflecting the care of a father preparing a meal for his family. We communicate with our customers in a respectful, inviting tone grounded in our love for food and culture.

tone and voice

Warm & Nurturing

Like the brand's story, the tone should feel comforting and supportive, focusing on how the product brings people together.

Authentic & Respectful

Messages should reflect the brand's deep respect for Asian traditions and ingredients while also being open and accessible to newcomers who are curious about trying Asian cuisine.

Simple & Honest

Avoid overly complex language or jargon. The voice should remain clear, emphasizing the simplicity and quality of the product. For example, please focus on the natural ingredients and how easy it is to prepare the noodles.

Slightly Playful

Given that the brand revolves around a loving yet strong paternal figure, some messaging can be light-hearted and playful. This helps the brand feel approachable and relatable to families and individuals alike.

LOGO COLOURS

"PRIMARY + SECONDARY"

The primary logo features the brand's full-colour scheme. It is the most commonly used version and represents the brand's identity in a standard and recognizable form. The primary logo is ideal for websites, product packaging, advertisements, social media, and anywhere the full brand expression is needed.

The reversed logo appears with a different background colour, possibly using one of the brand accents. The elements of the logo are adjusted to contrast with the new background colour. The reversed logo applies on solid-coloured backgrounds that require high contrast for legibility and visibility.

LOGO COLOURS "MONOCHROME"

The monochromatic logo is designed as a simplified version, using only black and white without any colour.

This logo works well when colour printing is limited, such as on business documents or monochrome advertisements, or when the brand needs to be presented in a minimalist style, such as product packaging or an accessible website with disability assistance that customer required dark-themed or colour-blindness web design support to navigate the website.

BRAND ICONS

Brand symbols help users quickly understand information and improve brand identity using consistent visual elements.

The brand icons represent key aspects of the brand, such as products or values. They depict various representations of noodles, bowls, and chopsticks, emphasizing the brand's core product—instant noodles.

The icons are designed consistently in style and colour to match the brand's identity, ensuring recognizability at any size. The provided icons have light and dark versions for different backgrounds, enhancing brand visibility and cohesion across platforms.

BRAND

PATTERNS+TEXTURES

Brand patterns with the brand's logo or design create a repeated visual theme that adds texture and decoration to different materials, reinforcing the brand's style.

Brand patterns are designs that repeat to create a cohesive and visually appealing background or texture in branding materials. They are inspired by a brand's logo, colours, or theme and enhance brand identity.

These patterns are commonly used in packaging, websites, social media, and promotional items to offer aesthetic appeal and reinforce brand recognition. They can be subtle or bold and are made of repeating motifs to create harmony while maintaining consistency with the brand identity.

APPLICATIONS

WEB DESIGN

The mock-up designs on both computer and mobile website for Papa Noodles focuses on creating a warm and family connection, reflecting the brand's message of fatherly love through earthy tones, simplified icons and cultural patterns.

The user-friendly interface allows for easy navigation, ordering, and cultural storytelling that links users to the brand's Asian heritage.

It includes product recommendations, recipe suggestions, and product delivery options to improve the user experience and enhances the brand's authenticity, making the app both practical and emotionally meaningful.

BAG PACKAGING DESIGN

The bag packaging design reflects the brand's mix of tradition and modern style. The kraft paper material gives a rustic, handmade feel, warmth and simplicity.

The selected packaging materials emphasize sustainability, showing our commitment to high quality and environmental responsibility.

A giant tongue graphic across the front and side of the bag packaging draws customers' attention while keeping things simple in visual design.

The text "Nourishment from Papa, Anytime, Anywhere" highlights the product's convenience and emotional value.

This design balances practicality, cultural storytelling, and customer connection, appealing to the target audiences.

NOODLE PACKAGING DESIGN

The packaging design reflects the brand's goal of expressing the love of Asian fathers through traditional Asian flavours and warm family themes.

Hand-drawn illustrations, earth tones and cultural symbols make the design authentic and nostalgic, appealing to both Asian and Western customers.

Various slogans like "Papa's love in every noodle" connect emotionally with the heart-shaped noodles, while the country style suggests nourishment and care.

The logo sticker and transparent packaging create a visual experience of simplicity and craftsmanship.

Overall, the design connects Asian culture and cuisine, making the product appealing and relatable to a broad audience.
